

1
2
3
4
5
6
7
8
9
10
11
12
13
14
15
16
17
18
19
20
21
22
23
24
25
26
27
28

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE EASTERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

Kahekili Seto, et al.,

Plaintiffs,

v.

County of San Joaquin,

Defendant.

No. 20-cv-01788-KJM-CKD

ORDER

In this Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) collective action, the parties jointly move this court to approve their settlement and dismiss this case with prejudice. As explained below, the court grants the motion.

I. BACKGROUND

Plaintiffs are current and former sheriff deputy sergeants for the defendant County of San Joaquin. First Am. Compl. (FAC) ¶¶ 3, 6, ECF No. 7. Plaintiffs’ compensation is governed by a memorandum of understanding (“MOU”), which provides a cash payment in lieu of unused health benefits (“cash-in-lieu”). Id. ¶¶ 15–16, 18.

In June 2016, the Ninth Circuit held that cash-in-lieu must be included in overtime pay rates under the FLSA. Flores v. City of San Gabriel, 824 F.3d 890, 907 (9th Cir. 2016). Accordingly, plaintiffs brought this collective action alleging defendant’s overtime pay rates did not incorporate cash-in-lieu. FAC ¶¶ 1–2. Plaintiffs seek three years of back overtime pay,

1 liquidated damages, and reasonable attorneys’ fees and costs under the FLSA. Id. ¶¶ 32–33.
2 Since plaintiffs’ initial filing of this lawsuit, a total of forty plaintiffs opted in to the FLSA
3 collective action. Affs. Individual Pls.’ Consent, ECF Nos. 4, 21.

4 The parties reached a settlement. Mot. at 7, ECF No. 22-1. Defendant agreed to pay a
5 total sum of $279,000. Youril Decl. Ex. A (Settlement Agreement) at 2, ECF No. 22-2.
6 Plaintiffs’ counsel will receive 24.5 percent of the total settlement fund, or $68,248.79, in 7 attorneys’ fees and costs. Id. at 3. Plaintiffs will receive the remaining $210,751.21, which will 8 be allocated based on each plaintiff’s overtime hours and based on an amount of cash-in-lieu each 9 plaintiff has already received. Mot. at 7. If the court approves the settlement, plaintiffs will 10 release their FLSA overtime claims related to the MOU. Settlement Agreement at 3–4.

11 The parties filed the pending joint motion for approval of the settlement agreement and 12 dismissal of the case. See Mot. All forty plaintiffs have consented to the proposed settlement.
13 See Youril Decl. Ex. B. The court submitted the matter without oral argument. Min. Order, ECF
14 No. 25.

15 II. CERTIFICATION OF FLSA COLLECTIVE

16 Plaintiffs have not moved for certification of their FLSA collective. See Mot. “When the 17 parties seek settlement approval of an FLSA collective action claim before seeking certification 18 of a collective action, courts in this circuit first consider whether certification is appropriate and 19 then whether the proposed settlement is substantively acceptable.” Kempen v. Matheson Tri-Gas,
20 Inc., 2016 WL 4073336, at *4 (N.D. Cal. Aug. 1, 2016). For certification, the members of the 21 FLSA collective action must be “similarly situated” to the original plaintiffs. Campbell v. City of 22 Los Angeles, 903 F.3d 1090, 1109 (9th Cir. 2018) (citing 29 U.S.C. § 216(b)). “[P]laintiffs are 23 similarly situated . . . to the extent they share a similar issue of law or fact material to the 24 disposition of their FLSA claims.” Id. at 1117.

25 Here, plaintiffs are similarly situated. They all held the same positions as sheriff deputy 26 sergeants when employed by defendant. FAC ¶ 3. They were subject to the same MOU policy
27 that allegedly caused a systemic underpayment under the FLSA. Id. ¶ 2.

28 The court certifies plaintiffs’ FLSA collective.

1 III. SETTLEMENT TERMS

2 If FLSA claims are settled, the settlement must be approved by either the Secretary of 3 Labor or a federal district court. Seminiano v. Xyris Enter., Inc., 602 F. App'x 682, 683 (9th Cir.
4 2015) (unpublished) (citing Nall v. Mal-Motels, Inc., 723 F.3d 1304, 1306 (11th Cir. 2013)). In 5 the absence of Supreme Court or Ninth Circuit guidance, district courts often assess whether the 6 settlement is “a fair and reasonable resolution of a bona fide dispute over FLSA provisions” under 7 Lynn’s Food Stores, Inc. v. United States, 679 F.2d 1350, 1355 (11th Cir. 1982). Dahl v. Bay
8 Power Inc., 2021 WL 2313388, at * 1 (N.D. Cal. May 28, 2021). Additionally, “[a]s part of the 9 inquiry to determine whether a FLSA settlement is fair, a district court ‘must consider the 10 proposed service payments to the named plaintiff and the attorneys’ fees.’” Fontes v. Drywood
11 Plus, Inc., 2013 WL 6228652, at *6 (D. Ariz. Dec. 2, 2013) (internal quotation marks and citation 12 omitted).

13 A. Bona Fide Dispute

14 A dispute is “bona fide” if there are “legitimate questions” about the defendant’s FLSA
15 liability. Selk v. Pioneers Mem’l Healthcare Dist., 159 F. Supp. 3d 1164, 1172 (S.D. Cal. 2016).
16 When there is certainty that the FLSA entitled plaintiffs to the compensation they seek, a court 17 will not approve a settlement, because it would likely shield employers from the full cost of 18 complying with the statute. Id. (citation omitted).

19 Here, a bona fide dispute exists over the method of calculating the deputy sheriff
20 employees’ overtime pay under the FLSA. Plaintiffs favor the method for salaried, non-exempt 21 employees prescribed in 29 C.F.R. § 778.113, where “the regular hourly rate of pay, on which 22 time and a half must be paid, is computed by dividing the salary by the number of hours which 23 the salary is intended to compensate.” Defendant argues for the method for hourly rate
24 employees set forth in 29 C.F.R. § 778.110(b), which uses all hours worked, including overtime
25 hours, to calculate the “regular rate,” and applies a 0.5 premium. Mastagni Decl. ¶¶ 33–34;
26 Youril Decl. ¶¶ 10–11.

27 The parties further dispute a number of other issues: defendant’s entitlement to the partial 28 overtime exemption under 29 U.S.C. § 207(k); defendant’s entitlement to reduce any liability

1 through offsets or credits under 29 U.S.C. § 207(h)(2); plaintiffs’ entitlement to liquidated
2 damages; and the applicable statute of limitations. Id. ¶¶ 33–34, 40, 42–44; Youril Decl. ¶¶ 10–
3 13. The resolution of these disputes would affect plaintiffs’ potential recovery based on their
4 FLSA claim. Mot. at 10–12

5 Bona fide disputes exist with respect to the extent of defendant’s FLSA liability.

6 B. Fair and Reasonable

7 To determine whether a FLSA settlement is fair and reasonable, the court evaluates the 8 “totality of the circumstances” within the context of the FLSA framework. Selk, 159 F. Supp. 3d
9 at 1173. The court must consider the following factors when determining whether a settlement is 10 fair and reasonable under the FLSA:

11 (1) the plaintiff’s range of possible recovery; (2) the stage of 12 proceedings and amount of discovery completed; (3) the seriousness
13 of the litigation risks faced by the parties; (4) the scope of any release
14 provision in the settlement agreement; (5) the experience and views 15 of counsel and the opinion of participating plaintiffs; and (6) the 16 possibility of fraud or collusion.

17 Id. The court addresses each of these factors below.

18 1. Plaintiffs’ Range of Possible Recovery

19 Plaintiffs’ maximum recovery based on their FLSA claim, including an award of 20 liquidated damages and an extended statute of limitations, is twice the amount of unpaid wages
21 for the three-year period before they opted into the lawsuit. Mot. at 12. While the parties do not
22 provide the court with a figure for this maximum amount here, they do explain how the settlement
23 amount was calculated, which aids the court in testing the reasonableness of the recovery. See id.
24 at 12–14; Beidleman v. City of Modesto, 2018 WL 1305713, at *3 (E.D. Cal. Mar. 13, 2018) (“In 25 light of the complexity of this case and the difficulty the parties face in estimating the likely value
26 of plaintiffs’ claim without conducting an exact calculation, the court finds the rationale 27 underlying the agreement and the recovery obtained as a result to be reasonable.”). The 28 settlement provides plaintiffs an aggregated sum of $210,751.21. Id. at 12. This sum is 29 significantly higher than what plaintiffs would have recovered under defendant’s calculation

1 method ($130,912.98). Id. Furthermore, the settlement amount was calculated based on the
2 number of overtime hours as defined in the MOU, in addition to the FLSA-qualifying overtime
3 hours. Id. at 13. Defendant also agreed not to assert any offsets or credits to reduce liability. Id.
4 These terms of the settlement increased plaintiffs’ recovery. Id.

5 Though the decision in Flores strongly suggests defendant would be liable in the face of 6 plaintiffs’ cash-in-lieu claim, the bona fide disputes identified above impact the certainty of 7 predicting an ultimate damages calculation. See Beidleman, 2018 WL 1305713, at *3. For 8 example, because plaintiffs’ entitlement to liquidated damages is in dispute, it is reasonable for 9 plaintiffs to settle for less than the maximum recovery. Similarly, plaintiffs risk an adverse court
10 decision if the court were called upon to determine defendant’s entitlement to the partial overtime
11 exemption under 29 U.S.C. § 207(k), which could have greatly reduced plaintiffs’ recovery.

12 Because the settlement appears to be above the minimum recovery and because the extent
13 of defendant’s liability remains uncertain, the compromise appears fair and reasonable. Thus, this 14 factor weighs in favor of approving the settlement.

15 2. Stage of Proceedings and Amount of Discovery Completed

16 “The court is also to evaluate the stage of the proceedings and the amount of discovery
17 completed in order to ensure that ‘the parties carefully investigated the claims before reaching a 18 resolution.’” Id. at *4 (quoting Ontiveros v. Zamora, 303 F.R.D. 356, 371 (E.D. Cal. 2014)).
19 “This factor will weigh in favor of approval if the parties have sufficient information to make an 20 informed decision regarding settlement.” Id. (citing Linney v. Cellular Alaska P’ship, 151 F.3d 21 1234, 1239 (9th Cir. 1998)).

22 Here, the parties have engaged in discovery, exchanging time and payroll records, as well
23 as the MOU. Mot. at 14. Because the claims for overtime pay relate primarily to time and 24 payroll records, the parties likely had enough information to fairly weigh the merits and to 25 evaluate the potential range of recovery before reaching a resolution. Accordingly, this factor
26 weighs in favor of approving the settlement.

1 3. Seriousness of Litigation Risks Faced by Parties

2 “Courts favor settlement where ‘there is a significant risk that litigation might result in a
3 lesser recover[y] for the class or no recovery at all.’” Beidleman, 2018 WL 1305713, at *4
4 (quoting Bellinghausen v. Tractor Supply Co., 306 F.R.D. 245, 255 (N.D. Cal. 2015)). While the 5 parties agree that the cash-in-lieu claims are essentially guaranteed success after Flores, they also 6 agree that, if this case were to proceed to trial, they each would face uncertainties due to their 7 bona fide disputes. Mot. at 15.

8 Considering the uncertainties of litigation, the relative immediacy of settlement serves to 9 benefit the purported collective members. See Officers for Justice v. Civil Serv. Comm’n of City
10 & Cty. of San Francisco, 688 F.2d 615, 625 (9th Cir. 1982) (noting that “voluntary conciliation 11 and settlement are the preferred means of dispute resolution”). This factor favors approving the 12 settlement.

13 4. Scope of Any Release Provision in Settlement Agreement

14 As the parties point out, “[a] FLSA release should not go beyond the specific FLSA
15 claims at issue in the lawsuit itself.” Mot. at 17 (quoting Slezak v. City of Palo Alto, 2017 WL
16 2688224, at *4 (N.D. Cal. June 22, 2017)). “Expansive release of claims would allow employers
17 to unfairly extract valuable concessions from employees using wages that they are guaranteed by 18 statute.” Beidleman, 2018 WL 1305713, at *4 (citing Moreno v. Regions Bank, 729 F. Supp. 2d 19 1346, 1351 (M.D. Fla. 2010)). Here, the release applies only to the FLSA overtime claims related 20 to the MOU and does not extend to claims arising beyond the date of the settlement agreement.
21 Settlement Agreement at 3–4.

22 Because the release is sufficiently tailored to the claims at issue in this suit, this factor
23 counsels in favor of approving the settlement.

24 5. Counsel’s Experience and Views, Plaintiffs’ Opinions

25 Plaintiffs’ counsel, who has considerable experience in the field of labor law, represents 26 that this settlement is fair, reasonable, and within the maximum range plaintiffs could expect to 27 recover after trial. Mot. at 18; see also Beidleman, 2018 WL 1305713, at *5 (finding experience

1 and views of plaintiffs’ counsel in this case supported approving the FLSA settlement).
2 Furthermore, counsel for defendant has over nine years of experience litigating wage-and-hour
3 disputes, including FLSA claims. Youril Decl. ¶ 2. He too believes the settlement is fair and 4 reasonable. Id. ¶ 14. The parties do not present any direct evidence of the plaintiffs’ individual
5 opinions of the settlement, but do provide the signature pages of the settlement agreement signed
6 by the opt-in plaintiffs. See id. Ex. B. All forty plaintiffs signed the settlement agreement, which 7 suggests they believe the settlement is a fair and reasonable resolution of their claims. See
8 Beidleman, 2018 WL 1305713, at *5 (fact that all opt-in plaintiffs, representing forty percent of 9 whole class, had already signed settlement agreement weighed in favor of approval of FLSA
10 settlement).

11 Accordingly, this factor weighs in favor of approving the settlement agreement.

12 6. Possibility of Fraud or Collusion

13 The court finds no evidence that the parties colluded or pursued their own self-interest in 14 reaching the settlement agreement. As noted above, the settlement agreement reflects a 15 reasonable compromise of the disputed issues, as well as damages and the expense of further 16 litigation. Moreover, the parties highlight that plaintiffs were given the opportunity to review the 17 settlement agreement and discuss it with counsel before signing. Mot. at 18. That all forty 18 plaintiffs voluntarily signed the agreement signifies a lack of collusion. See Youril Decl. Ex. B.
19 No other “subtle signs” of collusion exist, such as a disproportionate award of attorneys’ fees or a 20 non-monetary settlement for plaintiffs in the face of a large monetary award to counsel. See
21 Beidleman, 2018 WL 1305713, at *5.

22 This factor too counsels in favor of approving the settlement.

23 For the reasons above, the court finds the parties’ settlement to be fair and reasonable.

24 IV. ATTORNEYS’ FEES AND COSTS

25 “Where a proposed settlement of FLSA claims includes the payment of attorneys’ fees, 26 the court must also assess the reasonableness of the fee award.” Selk, 159 F. Supp. 3d at 1180
27 (citation omitted); see also 29 U.S.C. § 216(b) (in FLSA action, court shall “allow a reasonable 28 attorneys’ fee to be paid by the defendant, and costs of the action”). “The district court has

1 discretion in common-fund cases to award attorneys' fees in the amount of a percentage of the 2 common-fund or using the lodestar method." Kakani v. Oracle Corp., 2007 WL 4570190, at *2
3 (N.D. Cal. Dec. 21, 2007).

4 The parties have not provided sufficient information for a lodestar cross-check, but the 5 Ninth Circuit has generally set a twenty-five percent benchmark for the award of attorneys' fees,
6 and the court may adjust this figure if the record shows special circumstances justifying a
7 departure. See In re Bluetooth Headset Prod. Liab. Litig., 654 F.3d 935, 942 (9th Cir. 2011).

8 Here, the proposed attorneys' fees and costs combined are 24.5 percent of the total
9 settlement fund, see Settlement Agreement at 2, which is consistent with awards allowed in the 10 Ninth Circuit. No special circumstance requires the court to reduce the attorneys' fees. They are 11 approved.

12 V. CONCLUSION

13 1. For the reasons above, the court grants the parties' joint motion for approval of 14 settlement agreement and dismissal with prejudice.

15 2. The parties shall proceed to implement the terms of their settlement agreement.

16 3. The court retains jurisdiction to resolve any disputes related to the administration and 17 effectuation of the settlement including the ultimate disbursement to the participating collective 18 members and payment of attorneys' fees and expenses.

19 4. Plaintiffs shall notify the court within seven days after administration and effectuation
20 of the settlement is complete, at which point the case will be closed.

21 IT IS SO ORDERED.

22 DATED: August 14, 2022.

CHIEF UNITED STATES DISTRICT JUDGE